Child A was left unsupervised for approximately three minutes and five seconds, and he was left alone on the outdoor play area for two minutes and thirty seconds. During the transition a child name to face check, which is their policy for transitions was not followed, CCSM 1 and CCSM 2 had their backs to the outdoor play area which is why they missed Child A	Since the incident, all staff have completed Active Supervision Training from Early Childhood Learning and Knowledge Center. Either myself or my team lead supervise all transitions ensuring face to name checks are completed and active supervision is properly maintained.	ongoing

There was no structure to the children entering into the commons area, a child was at the end of the line and there was not a child care staff member at the beginning of the line. In the Commons area CCSM 1 and CCSM 2 did not maintain a global view and often left their back to children. Supervision was not appropriate in the Commons area.
