Findings:

General: Based on interview and review of documentation, it was found that on 1/25/2021 a staff person tripped over a bouncy seat which resulted in an injury to a 7-month-old child. The staff person was seated in a chair feeding another child. Another staff person strapped the 7-month-old child in a bouncy seat and placed the seat next to the staff person for supervision. When the staff person stood up, she tripped on the wire base of the bouncy seat. As the staff person fell, her foot and/or knee struck the 7-month-old child in the head. The child was taken to the Emergency Department and was diagnosed with a minimally depressed right parietal skull fracture and a bruised right eye.
