Findings:

Based on review of documentation, a staff (DOH:11/05/14) person suspected a child (DOE:11/03/16) to be abused and the staff failed to report the incident to the cabinet, i.e., on 01/27/17, a staff person (11/05/14) documented on an injury/incident report that a child (DOE:11/03/16) had bruises on his bottom that could possibly be from someone's hand. The same injury/incident report was also signed by a second staff person (DOH: 02/17/16); however, the staff stated during interview that the bruises she witnessed on 01/27/17 did not look like a hand print. Neither staff reported the incident to the cabinet. During an interview with staff (DOH:11/05/14), it was learned that the staff person did not report the incident because when she showed the bruises to the other staff members, they stated that the bruises did not look like a hand print. Therefore, she did not report the incident to the cabinet.
